

Baylor College of Medicine 22nd Annual GI and Liver Course
March 25-26, 2023

NEEDS STATEMENT

Updating practicing physicians and other health professionals in both the diagnosis and management of gastrointestinal and liver diseases/conditions is essential to providing quality care leading to improved patient outcomes. The goal of this activity is to review current as well as emerging medical therapies and to outline the most effective ways to integrate this information into clinical practice.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Gastroenterologists, hepatologists, internists, primary care physicians, nurses, physician assistants, medical trainees and students.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of the activity, participants should be able to:

- Discuss the new pharmacologic options for weight loss management
- Outline the role of innovation on climate change and develop strategies to improve sustainability
- Utilize noninvasive measures to screen for Barrett's Esophagus
- Recognize the role of Artificial Intelligence and computer assisted innovation in Gastroenterology

EDUCATIONAL METHODS

Lecture, Question and Answer Session, Panel Discussion

EVALUATION

Evaluation by questionnaire will address program content, presentation, and possible bias.

ACCREDITATION/CREDIT DESIGNATION

Physician

AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™

Baylor College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Baylor College of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 11.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The presentation, Innovation and Climate Change: Strategies for Improving Sustainability in Gastroenterology and Hepatology, has been designated by Baylor College of Medicine for 1.00 credit of education in medical ethics and/or professional responsibility.

ABIM MOC Credit

Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 11.00 MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine's (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. Participants will earn MOC points equivalent to the amount of CME credits claimed for the activity. It is the CME activity provider's responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.

Nurse

Texas Children's Hospital is approved with distinction as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by the Texas Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation. This continuing nursing education activity awards up to 11.00 contact hours.

CLAIMING CREDIT

Physician CME Credit, CE Credit, or Other Healthcare Professional Attendance

Within two (2) business days following the completion of the conference, an email will follow from the Baylor College of Medicine, Division of Continuing Professional Development (DCPD) with instructions for completing the evaluation and obtaining your CME, Certificate of Attendance, or CE Certificate (if applicable).

American Board of Internal Medicine Maintenance of Certification

In order to receive MOC credit for this activity, the participant must fulfill the following requirements.

Baylor College of Medicine 22nd Annual GI and Liver Course
March 25-26, 2023

1. Complete the electronic pre-test prior to participation in the conference. This was issued prior to the course by the DCPD via email.
2. Sign in each day of attendance
3. Complete the 15-question electronic post-test. You must achieve a passing score of 70% or higher on the post-test. A link to the post-test will be emailed to you within two (2) business days following the conclusion of the conference.

Your MOC credit along with identifying information (First Name, Last Name, Email, DOB, and ABIM Learner ID Number) will be reported to the specialty board within 8 weeks of the activity. Only passing scores will be submitted to the specialty board. Your MOC credit equates to the number of CME credits claimed for the activity and pending completion of the pre-test and a passing score on the post-test.

DISCLAIMER

This activity is designed for healthcare professionals for educational purposes. Information and opinions offered by the faculty/presenters represent their own viewpoints. Conclusions drawn by the participants should be derived from careful consideration of all available scientific information.

While Baylor College of Medicine makes every effort to have accurate information presented, no warranty, expressed or implied, is offered. The participant should use his/her clinical judgment, knowledge, experience, and diagnostic decision-making before applying any information, whether provided here or by others, for any professional use.

NOTICES

Faculty, topics, program schedule, and credit are subject to change. Audio or videotaping is prohibited without written permission from the Activity Directors and Baylor College of Medicine Division of Continuing Professional Development.

DRUG/DEVICE STATUS DISCLOSURE

Some drugs/devices identified during this activity may have United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) clearance for specific purposes only or for use in restricted research settings. The FDA has stated that it is the responsibility of the individual physician to determine the FDA status of each drug or device that he/she wishes to use in clinical practice and to use the products in compliance with applicable law.

Baylor College of Medicine requires that all faculty/presenters disclose an unlabeled use or investigational use of pharmaceutical and medical device products, and provide adequate scientific and clinical justification for such use. Physicians are urged to fully review all the available data on products or procedures before using them to treat patients.

DISCLOSURE OF FINANCIAL RELATIONSHIPS WITH COMMERCIAL INTERESTS

DISCLOSURE POLICY

Baylor College of Medicine (BCM) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education (CME) for physicians. BCM is committed to sponsoring CME activities that are scientifically based, accurate, current, and objectively presented.

In accordance with the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support, BCM has implemented a mechanism requiring everyone in a position to control the content of an educational activity (i.e., directors, planning committee members, faculty) to disclose any relevant financial relationships with commercial interests (drug/device companies) and manage/resolve any conflicts of interest prior to the activity. Individuals must disclose to participants the existence or non-existence of financial relationships at the time of the activity or within 24 months prior.

In addition, BCM has requested activity faculty/presenters to disclose to participants any unlabeled use or investigational use of pharmaceutical/device products; to use scientific or generic names (not trade names) in referring to products; and, if necessary to use a trade name, to use the names of similar products or those within a class. Faculty/presenters have also been requested to adhere to the ACCME's validation of clinical content statements.

BCM does not view the existence of financial relationships with commercial interests as implying bias or decreasing the value of a presentation. It is up to participants to determine whether the relationships influence the activity faculty with regard to exposition or
